vs.

Civil Action

2:17-CV-18

Joseph Penn, et al
Defendants

Plaintiff's response to Defendants Joint Advisory

To the Honorable Judge of Said Court,

Now, Comes Ms.

Bobbie Lee Haverkamp, AKA the Plaintiff and needs to address the Defendants Joint Advisory.

By the Numbers so nothing is lost.

1) The Plaintiff notes that all the Defendants are now formed in one group.

2) On page 4 of 6, the Defendants mention the Ex parte Young exception to sovereign immunity and to what extent does the Equal Protection Clause protect the Plaintiff from denial of sexual reassignment surgery — already found permissible under the Eighth Amendment — against members of a non-jural entity that participates in the formulation of medical policy.

First, the 5th Circuit has said, "non-invasive treatments and sexual reassignment surgery were acceptable treatments for transgenders."

The Honorable Corbello is mis-characterize the Gibson case. The 5th Circuit said it was not a violation of the 8th Amendment to deny sex-reassignment surgery when there is a controversy in the medical community.

The State borrowed a case called Kosilek, supra and presented it to the 5th Circuit — as the 5th Circuit ruled for the State, the Court also said it would be a better practice for them to bring their own witnesses.

John Hopkins University reversed their position after Gibson, deemed SRS and it is consider safe and effective.

These are issues in Civ. Action 2:17-cv-18, the Plaintiff assures the Court she can meet any evidence the Honorable Corbello wishes to present to the District Court,
the 5th Circuit or the Supreme Court.

Your Honor, in closing, the Plaintiff met the Ex Parte Young standard and is required to do no more.

The issue of immunity is out of the Plaintiff's hands, but we should get a ruling on will the present Civ. I Action move forward.

So Pays the Plaintiff
